There was Royal Decree for land Reform over this area on October 24, 1985 and, at present, is waiting for a Royal Decree for land Reform over more 6,000 rai of the public using area of Toongsaiyas where being a part of Bandanlanhoy District.

In 1985 the Sub-district committee (assembly) of Muang Bangklang, with the approval of Sawankhaloke District, submitted a petition to the Office of Land Reform of Sukhothai Province to perform a survey and making feasibility study for knowing suitability of land reformation. The committee of Land Reform for Agriculture has permitted the Office of Land Reform for Agriculture expanding reformation in such requested area on July 28, 1986 and, at present, on all inclusive planning under the co-operation of the Office of Land Reform for Agriculture and Institute of Sociological Research of Chulalongkorn University.

There are now 144 families of the trespassed farmers and it is expected to be able to distribute land for the living of about 197 families they will be given distributed land from 14 rai to 23 rai for each family. 8 ponds for drinking water have been completely dug in fiscal year of 1988 and selection of farmers to be living in distributed land was a topic in the second meeting of the Committee of Land Reform of Sukhothai Province on September 27, 1988.

5. The project of Land Reform at the Public using area of Toong Muangphet

The area of about 4,048 Rai is located in sub-district Kirimas, Kirimas District where the Royal Decree for Land Reform was promulgated on July 28, 1988. Before, this area was the public using area of the villagers but later has been trespassed by 232 families which caused much conflict and dispute among them up to now. Moreover the Department of Irrigation has planned to construct a reservoir in the northern part of this area, bringing much utilities to this area and in the meantime there will be tendency of more problems arising in future also. Because of aforesaid conditions, the Sukhothai province has to be performing an urgent project insisting the office of Land Reform for Agriculture (Sor Por Kor) to manage land reform at this area and distribute some part of land for the villagers who might get some troubles from reservoir construction and be able to utilize distributed land for themselves as well. The Committee of Land Reform for Agriculture has given the approval to the Office of Land Reform for Agriculture of Sukhothai province to start land reformation over this area and especially responsible for distribution of Right of Land Possession to the villagers and to have cooperation with the Department of Irrigation in part of fundamental development.

Problems-Obstacles in Land Reform of Sukhothai Province

1. Water resources for Agriculture The areas to be reformed have actually lack of water resources for Agriculture. Most farmers have to depend on rainfall only for their cultivation. They have so often got much damages from floods, droughts that their production are in very small amount and not enough for their living and causing their debt growth annually. If with out water resources providing for Agricultural development and for increasing mass production, the policy to up lift the status or conditions of the farmers to better stage as purposed might be possible in difficulty. Therefore the Office of Land Reform for Agriculture of Sukhothai Province has been laying plans in line with the two plans for problem solving as follow;

- Provision of water resources for small Agricultural activities such as small dikes or dredging of natural canals turning them to be water resources

- Promotion and support farmers to cultivate or grow plants or crops requiring less water such as growing other crops instead of rice and turning some land to be fruit gardens.

2. Budget Term of Budget Allocation, especially for construction, should be considered and allocated properly to season of cultivation and to period or time of operation. Practically speaking, the province has very often got such required budget so late that the operations cannot be worked in time of such fiscal year or not in proper time for season of cultivation. This delay makes operations in difficulty for they cause damages to crops cultivated already. Besides, periodical budget allocation for the fundamental development eventually less than of work plan and of annual budget (Sor Por Kor 5-02) which the Office of Land Reform for Agriculture has submitted to the pProvince making much problems in running the activities.

3. The co-operation in Development Activities As far as generally known, other government organs having reponsibility to develop rural area actually having an idea that it is sole duty and responsibility of Sor Por Kor to develop land in Land Reform control, no their duty to take part. The above idea makes all farmers in Land Reform area to get less development in various branches and the Sor Por Kor (The Office of Land Reform for Agriculture) cannot afford them so much for Sor Por Kor getting insufficient budget. But Sor Por Kor hopes that such problems will be decreased in next year for the Ministry of Agriculture and Co-operatives has given an order no 169/1987 permitting Sor Por Kor to join closely with other organs in this ministry to lay joint plans for promotion and development of Agriculture and all organs concerned have to regard Land Reform area as vital and important target. The Office of Land Reform for Agriculture (Sor Por Kor) has implemented an order demanded by trying best to join closely and mutually with the other organs in the Ministry of Agriculture and Co-operatives and other organs concerned. This co-operation intended to promote and develop farmers' occupation in Land Reform area. To bring this objective to success, the Office of Land Reform for Agriculture has formed Committees for Development of Agriculture and co-operatives in every districtss where Land Reform area have been proclaimed.

4. Number of Personnel Due to no position of chief engineer or engineer in the Office of Land Reform for Agriculture (Sor.Por.Kor.) The office has faced much obstruction to any new construction plans or any maintenance of the old ones and this forced the Sor Por Kor to depend on officials from central office. Such dependence makes slowness of work, not up to date and not worthwhile for officials from central officer to control small construction or small maintenance work at all.
