SECTION B - PROJECT DESCRIPTION

SECTION B

DESCRIPTION OF THE PROJECT

- B.1 PROJECT NAME : Upgrading Inter-Urban Highway System Along
The Pan – Philippine Highway Project
Cabanatuan Bypass
(Sta. 100+480.00 – Sta. 109+920.00)
- B.2 CONTRACT PACKAGE : Contract Package No. I
- B.3 LOCATION : Province of Nueva Ecija
- B.4 BACKGROUND OF THE PROJECT:

The Philippines is fast becoming the economic giant in the South East Asian Region. Central Luzon, once considered “The Rice Granary of the Philippines” which includes several provinces in Region III like Bulacan and Nueva Ecija has contributed significantly to the country's economic development.

Recent years' economic growth brought about a sharp traffic increase in and around Metro Manila and regional growth pole cities. Urban section along arterial roads in particular encountered sharp increase of not only local traffic but also through traffic, thus the road function particularly the traffic function of the arterial roads and proper sharing of road function with roads of lower categories are becoming vital issues to be addressed in the road development policies particularly along the Pan – Philippine Highway.

In the late 1960's, the systematic road network development started not only in the region but throughout the country. The Road development's initial thrust is to expand the road network to provide basic access to major regions. Since the middle of 1980's the government of the Philippines (GOP) has experienced the premature road deteriorations as well as road damages like slope failures and landslides due to natural calamities. To cope with such situations, the GOP's emphasis for road development was placed on rehabilitation and conversion of existing roads to stronger roads against natural calamity.

Taking the above situations into account, a Feasibility Study on Upgrading Inter-Urban Highway System along the Pan Philippine Highway, Plaridel – Cabanatuan – San Jose Bypasses was carried out by the Project Management Office – Feasibility Studies of DPWH and the JICA Team in November 1999 in order to conduct the detailed design study for the construction of the Plaridel, Cabanatuan and San Jose Bypasses and to transfer technology on highway development. In addition, traffic congestion in the said urban sections of the Pan-Philippine Highway is chaotic and is causing serious air pollution, noise problems, traffic accidents and other urban environmental problems.

The Project is to upgrade the Inter-Urban Highway System along the Pan-Philippine Highway, Plaridel, Cabanatuan and San Jose Bypasses (Phase I of the Initial Stage). The road section from Sta. Rita, Plaridel to San Jose of the Pan – Philippine Highway starts at about 40 km. north of Metro Manila and extends for about 123.5 km. It is located in Region III and within the economic influence area of Metro Manila. Along the highway, small and medium size urban centers are situated at about 10 km. intervals and urbanization is expanding along the highway as a ribbon type development. In urban sections, the traffic function of the highway is being seriously affected due to the composition of slow and disorderly moving traffic such as tricycles and jeepneys.

- PLARIDEL BYPASS –

This starts at 500m north of Burol Interchange in the North Luzon Expressway (NLE). It then proceeds on a Northeastern direction towards Bgy. Tiaong of the municipality of Guiguinto. Terrain at the proposed site is relatively flat where the ramps are proposed to cross the NLE to provide ingress and egress to the Bypass. The Plaridel Bypass having 22.65 km will traverse five municipalities in Bulacan namely Balagtas, Guiguinto, Plaridel, Bustos and San Miguel. It passes through several barangays of the municipality of Bustos in the Northeastern direction till it crosses the Angat river on the way to Bgy. Tambubong and finally joins the Pan-Philippine Highway at Bgy. Maguinao in the municipality of San Rafael. Most of the areas where the Bypass will traverse are rice fields with some residential areas in other locations. The proposed short bridges mostly cross small streams and rivers with meandering behavior both upstream and down stream. A new Interchange is designed as an imperfect direct Y type interchange. The bridge length is 225m with 9 spans of 25m intervals, minimum height clearance is 5.10m and the embankment height is 8m. The bypass with frontage roads have a length of 9.4m and two (2) new access roads. There are seven (7) major at-grade intersection, sixteen minor intersection and fifteen (15) under-boxes.

- CABANATUAN BYPASS –

The Cabanatuan Bypass having about 34.0 km will traverse four (4) municipalities in Nueva Ecija, namely the municipalities of San Leonardo, Sta Rosa, Talavera and the city of Cabanatuan. Starting from San Leonardo, the Bypass will traverse the vast agricultural lands of Bgys. Diversion, Tabuating, Magpapalayok and Tagumpay until it reaches the administrative boundary of San Leonardo and Sta. Rosa at Tabuating River. The planned Bypass will cross the Talavera River passing at Bgy. Lomboy where it joins the Pan-Philippine Highway. The areas traversed by the alignment are mostly cultivated lands specially at the streams crossings or the bridge locations. In Cabanatuan City, the Bypass will be traversing planned urban areas, thus frontage road is provided. The bypass with frontage roads has a length of 8.61 km. There are ten (10) major at-grade intersections, 25 minor intersections and 21 under-boxes. River conditions at the project bridge locations are generally good with rivers mostly meandering. A bridge will be constructed with a total length of 1,125 m over the Pampanga river. There is a network of irrigation canal along the area of the proposed Bypass alignment. Evidence of scouring at the site is minor with water overflowing on shallow streams during high flood. Riverbanks are mostly stable with trees, weeds and bamboos. The conditions of the bridges crossing streams, rivers and irrigation canals are more or less synonymous with the Plaridel Bypass.

- SAN JOSE BYPASS

The San Jose Bypass having a total length of almost 8 km traverses only one town, the city of San Jose. The areas traversed by the proposed alignment are surrounded by rice fields and vegetation lots which become the main source of livelihood in the area. The proposed alignment was 125m towards west between section of the Nueva Ecija – Pangasinan road and the Tris Main Irrigation Canal. Upstream right next to the proposed site is the control gate with spillway and concrete lined canal below. There are four (4) bridge sites along the proposed alignment. The same bridge structure as the Plaridel Bypass will be applied.

B.5 OBJECTIVES OF THE PROJECT

The main objectives of the Project can be summarized as follows:

- To restore the road function of the Pan-Philippine Highway which is the most important arterial road in the country;
- To mitigate serious traffic congestion of urban sections,
- To improve urban environment and amenity,
- To guide sound urbanization, and
- To support socio-economic development of the influence areas.
- To reduce travel time and vehicle maintenance cost;
- To provide a reliable and stable road against disasters generated by natural calamities;

B.6 SCOPE OF THE PROJECT
