除隊兵世帯の脆弱性	Without military salary, most struggle to earn for a day. Securing food is still difficult for many of them, in particular for the landless.	: After discharge, the veterans lost salary and food rations. They have to work hard to earn for daily food. Children whose parents died recently are extremely vulnerable without stable means of earning money for food.	: During military service, the veterans got affected by malaria and asthma. Some got disabled. Due to physical vulnerability, earning sufficient livelihood is very difficult after discharge. Situations are worse due to lack of skills : If family did not live in the village before discharge, reintegration in civilian life is very difficult. : Landlessness makes the veterans even more vulnerable.	: Rice shortage during a period of October and December affects the veterans most among the poor : Frequent incidents of malaria result in high medical costs and loss of day wages : Delay in the delivery of package forced the veterans to sell the assistance goods and to borrow money by depositing their demobilisation certificate as a collateral.

Vulnerability of the veterans	Without military salary, most struggle to earn for a day. Securing food is still difficult for many of them, in particular for the landless.	: After discharge, the veterans lost salary and food rations. They have to work hard to earn for daily food. Children whose parents died recently are extremely vulnerable without stable means of earning money for food.	: During military service, the veterans got affected by malaria and asthma. Some got disabled. Due to physical vulnerability, earning sufficient livelihood is very difficult after discharge. Situations are worse due to lack of skills : If family did not live in the village before discharge, reintegration in civilian life is very difficult. : Landlessness makes the veterans even more vulnerable.	: Rice shortage during a period of October and December affects the veterans most among the poor : Frequent incidents of malaria result in high medical costs and loss of day wages : Delay in the delivery of package forced the veterans to sell the assistance goods and to borrow money by depositing their demobilisation certificate as a collateral.

Skills training	: 5 dress-making shops where village girls can learn for $80 for 6-8 months. : No former training centre in Commune : Provincial Vocational Training Centre (far)	: Provincial Training Centre (PDRD) : No NGO training provided in the village	: 1 vocational training centre supported by UNICEF and PDCE : Approx.10% of villagers attended training courses in welding, motorbike repair, construction skills. : CIDSE provides agricultural technical training. : Veteran's wife teaches village girls to sew	: Some veterans are trained in farming, TV/radio repair skills while they were in military : Only few can afford to learn skills in Phnom Penh
Agriculture/Business assistance	: 19 Rural Credit Groups created in the village : Takeo Provincial Vocational Training Centre provides loans to ex-trainees. : ACLEDA Bank provides loans at 3-4% interest for a period of 12-24 months : Informal money lenders provide loans at 15-25% interest.	: Catholic Relief Services, int'l NGO, provide loans. : Village credit guarantee groups are formed : Informal money lenders provide loans at 15-30% interest.	: PRASAC provides irrigation facility, agriculture training and loans (Approx.10% of villagers borrowed including 1 veteran) : CIDSE provided training in pig raising, compost making and credit (Most villagers were benefited well but the program ended in 2000. : IPM provides training in pest control, and 20% of the villagers attended.	: Local NGO provided training on the production of organic pesticide/repellent in 2001
Employment opportunities	: 2 local markets located in the village where villagers can sell farm produce and earn labour wages : Many villagers go to Phnom Penh (40 Km away) for selling farm produce and work as a wage labourer. : About 20 village girls work in garment factory through an intermediary man, but they had to pay $60.	: Vary few job opportunities in the village. : Some earn day wages as a labourers on other's farm land, construction worker, or garment workers. : Collect firewood for selling although this is banned by the government	: Very few job opportunities in the village. : Many work as labourers on other's farmland and get paid 4000 Riel per day (2000 Riel for children between 12-15 yrs old) : Run a grocery shop : Some go to Phnom Penh to work at construction sites and garment factories	: Collection of firewood (prohibited by government) : Many used to work at Cassava company, but they recently stopped due to wage cut. : Many work as labourer on other's farmland : Some run small shop in the village : Some go to Phnom Penh to work at construction site or garment factory
Main problems of accessibility	Good health care : Accessible to commune health care but villagers prefer private clinic due to lack of medicine and long waiting time at commune health centre Affordable credit : Most credit available require high interest rates for a short period	: Market access is a big problem due to poor road network. Unable to go to market for buying and selling produce, villagers depend on the middlemen. : Unable to afford transportation, few can access to health centre and hospital. : Farmers can access only to small credit facilities at high interest rate for a short period. : Telephone connection is too poor to receive information from other areas.	: Villagers have limited access to good health care at Commune Health Centre due mainly to lack of medicine and trained staff. : Many veterans are not aware of free medical services (available through showing their medical certificate). : 5 out of 6 veterans have no access to farm land because they are not a original resident of the village during the land distribution in the 80's. : Weak and sick villagers have difficulty in accessing water	: Villagers have difficulty in getting loans because of lack of collateral. : Lack of agriculture and business assistance in the village limits job creation.
Top three priority services requested by the veterans	1. Credit with lower interests for a longer-period 2. Skills training in vegetable production and animal raising 3. Skills training in sewing and small machinery repair	1. Skills training in raising animals 2. Skills training in seed selection, vegetable/fruit growing 3. Skills training in small machinery repair.	: Free medical services (most do not know ) : Skills training in animal raising and welding, etc for both the veterans and family members : Credit (cash, material inputs such as piglets, cows)	: Land title and legal services to resolve current land disputes. : Participation in animal bank (pig, cattle, chicken) : Training on vegetable production and animal husbandry
