JICA Celebrates Success of KAIZEN Study Project and Commits Further Support

Productivity as a stimulus of trade competitiveness through KAIZEN

Capacity Development of KAIZEN Unit National KAIZEN Seminar was held on May 3, 2011 in order to present this Study's outcomes to the Ethiopian government officials and representatives of public and private institutions that were stakeholders of KAIZEN dissemination in Ethiopia. The presentation subjects were: main accomplishments of the pilot project; the methodologies of KAIZEN guidance established in the pilot project; and the Dissemination Plan formulated in the Study.

As the result of the presentations and the discussion that followed, the officials and stakeholders came to share a basic understanding of the KAIZEN methodologies and the proposed Dissemination Plan, and favourable opinions were voiced as follows;

Quality is culture of a nation. A movement is required in order for quality improvement through KAIZEN to progress continuously and achieve transformation of quality in products and services in the country. KAIZEN curriculums should be included in the country's education system in consideration with human resources development of the next generation. (From academics stakeholder)

A specialized institution is needed to be set up from the standpoint of education. KAIZEN should be taught in the initial stages of education such as kinder-garden. Education is important in the long run to make companies capable of surviving as a goingconcern and to make them internationally competitive.

(From two managers of pilot companies)

Dissemination Plan was presented at the seminar by a member of JICA KAIZEN Study team.

H.E. Hiroyuki Kishino Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary, Ambassador of Japan to Ethiopia

We, Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA) are about to complete the current KAIZEN Study Project which has been conducted with KAIZEN Unit under Ministry of Industry (MoI). We are happy with successful results in the project and make a firm promise to support further efforts of Government of Ethiopia to disseminate KAIZEN all over the country after the completion of the current project.

JICA have supported activities of KAIZEN Unit under MoI since October 2009. This cooperation stems from a request made to Japan by His Excellency Prime Minister Mr. Meles Zenawi, who has been interested in KAIZEN to improve competitiveness of industries in Ethiopia. Cognizant of strong needs to improve quality and productivity in industries to realize rapid economic growth of Ethiopia, JICA launched a project to Support KAIZEN Unit. In the project, thanks to much effort by members of KAI-ZEN Unit and Japanese consultants, many successful examples of Pilot Project companies, precious material for the dissemination and important findings has been realized. In addition, KAIZEN Unit members acquired much skill and knowledge about KAIZEN and they are expected to play a center role in further dissemination.

As for the next step after completion of the current project, JICA is aware that the Government of Ethiopia is so keen on disseminating KAIZEN to enterprises in regional areas and micro and small companies (MSE) that has not yet been covered in the current project so far. JICA is willing to support the further efforts in the next stage. As institutional framework is in need for further dissemination, the Government of Ethiopia is having an internal discussion about new institute to be established to disseminate KAI-ZEN and JICA have also dispatched an advisor for the institutionalization in the Government. We JICA do hope that current Unit members are transferred to the newly established institute and use their knowledge and skills.

JICA celebrates the success made by the Government of Ethiopia in the KAIZEN Study Project. In addition, we firmly commit our support for the further efforts to be done in the next stage.

Productivity as a stimulus of trade competitiveness through KAIZEN

As the world becomes more globalized, trade rises in volume and prominence. Trade benefits both the seller and the buyer, resulting in specialization that in turn increases overall productivity of the economy. However, sometimes trade, especially that between countries, is hampered by excessive regulations, quotas, tariffs and other trade barriers. Breaking down those barriers and promoting trade should be a priority for policymakers around the world. Improving the productivity and global competitiveness of domestic producers through just proofed management systems and participation in the international market is of unquestionable way out.

Volume 8

By the adoption and adaptation of appropriate knowledge, technologies and management techniques such as KAIZEN in a country and develop solutions specific to own needs, as opposed to simply copying approaches used by developed countries, it is possible to achieve competitive world power resulting from enhanced quality and productivity.

Some potential problems associated with trade promotions programs in Ethiopia are costs, quality, delivery, the potential impact on small manufacturers, the tendency to rely too much on trade promotions to move merchandise and lack of trade promotion performance measures.

The Ethiopian government has embarked on concerted socio-economic policy and institutional reforms with a view to promoting economic growth. The government has also commenced Balanced Score Card, Benchmarking and KAIZEN to improve the national scale impediments of quality and productivity. KAIZEN project is operating in Ethiopia, since 2009. The KAIZEN activity stresses the need for promoting and safeguarding Ethiopian interests in export and import trade by solving the issues and challenges of the trade promotions resulting from Kaizen techniques implementation and sustaining of the remarkable outputs obtained.

It is noted that one of the major ways to promote trade is to increase public awareness (through mass media campaigns, kaizen and trade education in schools and universities, and the embrace of kaizen by country leaders) of the benefits trade brings to societies and the capability of Kaizen management system to effect the benefits of the trade promotion and encourage the national economy to produce more value-adding products and services and sell them abroad at low cost. The benefits are not just economic, but also social and cultural as people from different places meet, exchanging goods, services and ideas. KAIZEN helps continually improve trade promotions and supports utilize processes & systems that measure trade promotion performances.

To deal with global competition, the government of Ethiopia has to mobilize in its full capacity to implement KAIZEN in all public & private sectors, and prioritize measures to raise productivity & strengthen national competitiveness because effective and efficient sectors are vital for economic development.

KAIZEN Unit Members

KAIZEN Unit (KU) is an organization established by Ministry Of Industry to implement the study and is being made up of following ten members as of March 2011.

First independent guidance program

In March to April 2011, KU conducted a supplementary KAIZEN guidance program for one of the pilot companies to help the company enhance its KAIZEN self-organization. At the same time, it allowed KU to independently execute a full-blown guidance program.

The company's supervisor stated that while they had been engaged in QCC activity, their lack of 5S activity had limited their achievement of problem solving. Now with 5S in place, company's effort of elimination of waste progresses resulting in improved operational efficiency. KAIZEN Unit guidance which was conducted was very effective.
