Concluding Comments To The Final Report of JOCV suvery

Noriaki Nishiyana Professor, Center of Advanced Tourism Studies, Hokkaido University

As you can find in this final report, here, all the architectures that consist the value of the heritage town of Sall at listed. Not only the detailed characteristics of those architectures but also their conditions, integrities and histories it changes are recorded. Moreover, of certain samples, treasures such as a Sword which has been handed down from generation to generation, articles for everyday was such as a large oblong chest and plates, traditional clothes and a music instrument in houses are recorded. This collection of records developed through the survey of blood, swell and tears for twelve month that is consisted of three dispatches of JOCVs over two years carried by ten JOCVs, for counterparts and five supporters from Jordan will be "the book of the start" as the most important fundamental materia for the historic conservation and the community development with the cultural heritage in Salt which is starting now, it first, I would like to thank the effort of the survey members and the cooperation and cares from ASCD, PMU, HOSK DoA, MOTA and many other related organizations who supported the survey.

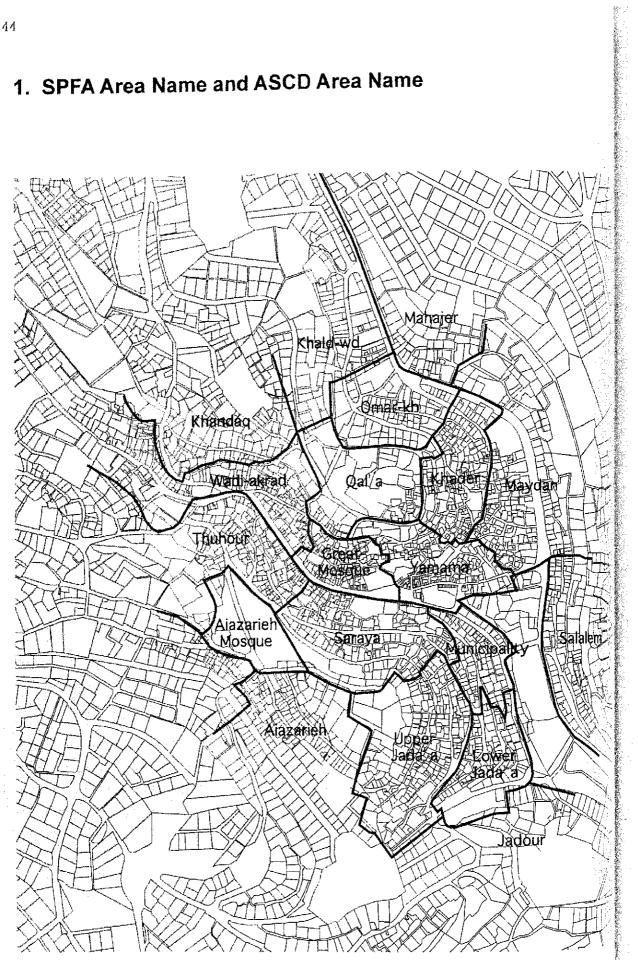

On the other hand, the collection of records is not completed. It awaits revises and amendments to better its quality and enrich the contents through the conservation and community development activities over the years. Besides changes of the buildings are their fate and in turn, the creation and finding of new treasures are expected. The database indeed is alive and will die if it is not taken care all the time. Its first life has given by the JOCVs and the counterparts. How big it will grow? How useful it will? The answers are depending on the people who are going to receive and manage the database.

JICA has been proposed a plan based on the idea: it is the best way to apply Ecomuseum system to manage its living heritage, the cultural heritage in the city of Salt. I hope that all the persons concerned will consider this propose and make use of it for other projects such as the trail project, the grant project, City Core Special Regulations (CCSR) and restoration projects. JICA and we, Japanese experts, would like to continue the cooperation to inherit this wonderful and unique living heritage, Salt city as the common heritage of humanity.

At last, I wish, from the bottom of my heart, that the people who live in the city will always love and keep living in the town no matter how Salt develops and prospers as a tourism destination.
