The Project for Capacity Development on Container Terminal Management and Operation in Sihanoukville Port Phase 2

Part 3: Basic Approach toward the Next Stage

Basic Approach toward the Next Stage

- Activities that really suit your very need (as long as we can do)
- Securing more flexibility of the Project (the situation of the port has changed from the beginning of the project; therefore, we will consider changes of the initial PDM and conduct the most suitable activities.)
- More thorough site oriented approach and more intensive discussions with PAS staff
- Further consideration on port management as a public company
- Activities more aware of the global standards

Source of Demand Forecast: Preparatory Survey for Sihanoukville Port New Container Terminal Development Project (JICA; Nov. 2016)

Demand & Capacity

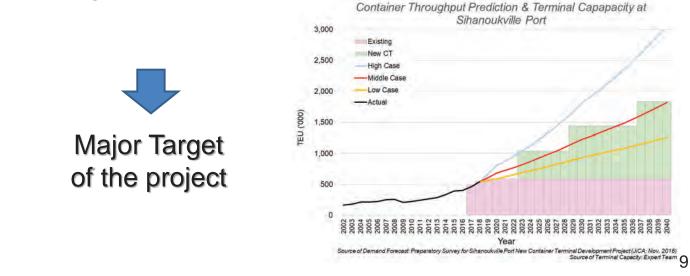

Comparison among the ASEAN Countries

8

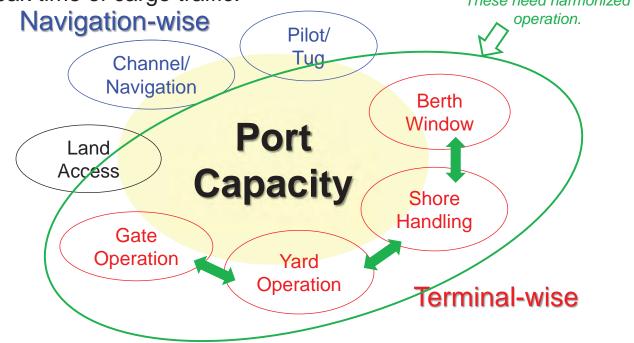

Major Issues

- It is vitally important to maintain international competitiveness of Sihanoukville (SV) port in terms of user-friendliness and terminal performance/productivity.
- It is necessary to ensure SV port to accommodate the increase of container cargo, i.e. 0.8 million TEU until the commencement of a new CT by 2023.

Port Capacity/Productivity

- In general, a port capacity/productivity is defined by a minimum capacity among operations below.
- A terminal capacity/productivity is also defined by the operation in a peak time of cargo traffic.
 These need harmonized
