ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This Tourism Development Master Plan is the final deliverable of “the Project for formulating Tourism Develop Master Plan in the Petra region” implemented between April 2021 and February 2025 under the framework of bilateral cooperation between the Petra Development and Tourism Region Authority (PDTRA) and Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA). The Government of Japan has been providing continuous support to Jordan's tourism sector, including the construction of the National Museum in Amman (2013) and the Petra Museum in Petra (2019).

Petra is considered one of the most important World Heritage sites in Jordan registered by UNESCO in 1985. On the other hand, the tourism sector is a vulnerable industry that is susceptible to security conditions, and Petra's tourism sector has been affected by COVID-19 and regional instability in recent years. In addition, while tourism can be extremely effective for achieving regional economic development, it can also be a double-edged sword, as it can destroy the traditional values and mentality of the local people.

In this context, a major challenge in promoting tourism development in Petra is how to balance the preservation of traditional values with economic growth through tourism development. Under the rules of the law, the Authority is aiming to develop the Petra region in tourism, economy, society and culture, and contribute to the sustainable development of the local community following a policy of “Leaving no one behind”. This Master Plan sets out the vision “To be one-of-a-kind destination preserving the Nabatean identity and welcoming visitors from our HEART” under the slogan of “WE ARE PETRA”, based on the above policy of inclusion for all. This Master Plan provides strategies to realize a sustainable and resilient tourist destination through maximizing the value of Petra tourism in line with our National Economic Modernization Vision 2023-2033.

This Master Plan will be implemented in collaboration with the tourism industry and local and national stakeholders, as well as through PDTRA's approach to the development and modernization of its organization.

This Master Plan is the road map and an approved reference for all the work and executive plans carried out by the Authority, taking into account the outputs and results, measurement, analysis, return and steady pace considering all circumstances, challenges and risks affecting the tourism sector.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

OBJECTIVE AND TARGET OF THE MASTER PLAN

Petra is the most famous UNESCO World Cultural Heritage Site registered in Jordan.

Although Petra attracts tourists from all over the world, other attractions have not been sufficiently developed, and the benefits of tourism have not fully reached the local community. In addition, Petra is facing risk of unstable political situation in the region, increase of natural disasters due to climate change and increase of over-tourism due to a surge in the number of tourists.

Meanwhile, the objective of this Master Plan is to formulate a future development strategy for the development of the tourism sector in the Petra region in order to make the region a sustainable and resilient tourist destination.

OUR APPROACH AND TARGET

1) Value Chain Approach

In this Master Plan, the "Value Chain Approach" is applied to the tourism development which is widely understood today as a method for analyzing competitiveness of companies.

The "Value Chain Approach" is defined as a series of support to increase the value added of the tourism sector in the Petra region and to strengthen the competitiveness of Petra tourism.

2) Target Area and Target Year

This Master Plan targets the six communities in the Petra region: Baidha, Umm Sayhoun, Wadi Musa, Taybeh, Rajif and Dlagha. The target year is set from 2023 to 2033 aligned with Jordan's national "Economic Modernization Vision", launched in January 2022.

VISION AND GUIDING PRINCIPLES

1) Vision

"WE ARE PETRA" is the slogan and visual icon that embodies our vision of this Master Plan. "WE ARE PETRA" conveys a message that the Master Plan is committed to leaving no one behind. Based on this slogan, this Master Plan sets "To be one-of-a-kind destination preserving the Nabatean identity and welcoming visitors from our HEART" as its vision and aims to make Petra a unique tourist destination.

2) Guiding Principles

The five guiding principles underpin the development of comprehensive and effective tourism development in the Petra region and the promotion of Public-Private Partnership (PPP) in the tourism sector for the destination management: (i) Simplify and Diversify; (ii) Localize and Globalize; (iii) Conserve and Develop; (iv) Integrate and Separate; and (v) Cooperate and Compete, for formulating sustainable and resilient tourist destination.

KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS (KPI)

In this Master Plan, five KPIs have determined to measure the success of initiatives aimed at enhancing Petra's tourism industry. These KPIs use data from surveys, census data, official statistics, and projections based on historical trends and national growth targets.

The first KPI focuses on expenditure per tourist visiting Petra. Baseline data from a 2022 survey recorded an average spending of 245 JOD for tourists staying between 0-4 nights, with an average per night spending of 102 JOD. The targeted expenditure per tourist is projected to increase to 278 JOD by 2028 and further to 308 JOD by 2033. This KPI is crucial for understanding the economic impact of visitors to Petra.

The second KPI is the number of tourists visiting Petra. Historical data indicates a Composed Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of approximately 4% in tourist numbers to Petra over many years. Assuming this growth rate continues, Petra is projected to surpass 1.6 million tourists by 2033. This KPI aids in planning infrastructure and managing visitor flows to ensure sustainable tourism development.

The third KPI measures tourism receipts in Petra. Starting from Jordan's total tourism receipts of 5.8 billion USD in 2022, Petra's share is estimated at 18%, or 0.93 billion USD. Projected to grow at a 10% CAGR, aligned with Jordan's Economic Modernization Vision, receipts are expected to reach 2.65 billion USD by 2033. This KPI is essential for gauging the financial benefits of tourism and planning economic strategies.

The fourth KPI addresses employment in the tourism sector in Petra, particularly focusing on women. According to the Petra Development and Tourism Region Authority (PDTRA)'s 2021 census, 21% of Petra's workforce is in tourism, with women making up 39%. The goal is to increase this to 54% by 2033, matching the global percentage identified by the World Travel and Tourism Council (WTTC). This KPI aims to promote gender equality and inclusive economic growth.

The fifth KPI monitors the progress of actions taken for environmental consideration. This involves measuring the implementation of various initiatives such as destination management, waste management, and water management. Examples include achieving GSTC certifications, improving waste treatment facilities, and enhancing water reuse practices. This KPI ensures that tourism growth does not compromise Petra's environmental sustainability.

STRATEGIC PROGRAMS

Strategic Program is a set of priority projects

according to the issues to be tackled in each five processes of the "Value Chain", in order to realize the Vision in compliance with the Guiding Principles.

1) Program #1: Destination Management (DM)

Strategic Program for the Destination Management is composed of 18 priority projects to ensure the sustainability of tourism by providing the highest quality experience for visitors and managing the impacts of tourism on the local economy, society and environment. Destination Management includes cross-cutting activities that cover all the processes necessary to maximize the value of a tourist destination.

"Establish sustainable destination management framework" is set as the key objective for the strategic program of destination management.

According to the Global Sustainable Tourism Council (GSTC)'s four pillars of sustainable tourism: (A) Sustainable Management; (B) Socioeconomic Sustainability; (C) Cultural Sustainability; and (D) Environmental Sustainability, the Program 1: Destination Management consists of 18 priority projects to achieve the key objective mentioned above.

2) Program #2: Research and Development (RD)

The main tourism attraction in Petra is the Petra Archaeological Park (PAP), which is a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The cultural space of the Bedu in Petra and Wadi Rum is also registered in the UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage (ICH) list. In addition, the natural heritage of the Petra region is currently being considered for the Petra Nature Reserve and the Petra Geo Park. The traditional architecture of the six local communities and the cultural landscape of the traditional agricultural landscapes, which are the legacy of the Nabatean culture, are also valuable heritage and potential tourism resources.

Sustainable tourism development in Petra should consider the Outstanding Universal Value (OUV) of the UNESCO World Heritage Site and should be accompanied by research and conservation of diverse cultural and natural heritage in the region, as well as educational activities for the local people related to the local cultures and heritage.

In addition, it is also important to promote “Inclusive tourism” by promoting barrier-free access, as well as to re-evaluate the unique regional culture and local products that are linked to regional identity, and to re-evaluate traditional culture in terms of the SDGs.

The core of these activities is the Petra Museum. The museum should become the hub of sustainable tourism in the region based on the basic functions of museum: collection, conservation, research, exhibition and educational activities on cultural heritage.

Based on the need for these activities, 12 priority projects are planned as the Strategic Programs for Research and Development.

3) Program #3: Product Design (PD)

The Strategic Program for Product Design aims to develop attractive and competitive tourism in the local communities surrounding the PAP to distribute more benefit from tourism to the communities. It consists of 11 programs.

It also aims at not only developing tourism but also establishing a promotion and sales channel in collaboration with Sales and Promotion to maintain the activity of PD within each community.

In addition to this, it proposes an establishment of the implementation body with PPP and provision of necessary trainings of product development skill and knowledge in collaboration with Destination Management, Research and Development and Service and Hospitality programs to develop a variety of tourism products which will fill the missing attractions such as evening programs, adventure tours and other new attractions. It will contribute to extending the length of stay in the Petra region.

The trainings also target to raise awareness of sustainable tourism, involvement of women and youth, accessible tourism and environment protection, and enhance the local people to work for product development with perspectives of these important concepts.

4) Program #4: Sales and Promotion (SP)

The Strategic Program for Sales and Promotion aims to create a holistic and dynamic approach to enhancing Petra’s global appeal. Comprising 9 projects, Sales and Promotion leverages both traditional and innovative marketing techniques to elevate Petra's profile as a premier tourist destination. A key focus is to continuously promote lesser-known attractions, distributing visitor traffic more evenly and enriching the overall tourist experience while fostering sustainable tourism practices.

A significant focus of the Strategic Program is to enhance digital marketing capabilities, ensuring that Petra engages a broad audience through compelling and targeted content. Regular updates to the Visit Petra website and mobile app will keep the digital interface user-friendly and current, offering seamless access to information and services. The integration of generative AI will further personalize visitor experiences with tailored recommendations and interactive trip planning tools, improving overall engagement and satisfaction.

In addition to boosting social media engagement through targeted campaigns and influencer collaborations, Sales and Promotion’s Strategic Program emphasizes promoting Petra as a prime destination for meetings and incentives. Encouraging local service providers to engage in digital marketing will also help distribute the benefits of increased tourism.

5) Program #5: Service and Hospitality (SH)

The Service and Hospitality Strategic Program aims to increase and maintain tourists' satisfaction and comfort with Petra by ensuring that Petra's human resources provide quality service and appropriate hospitality that meets the demands of a diverse range of tourists, stably and sustainably.

Acquiring multifaceted knowledge and skills and developing high motivation and pride in their work are essential to enhance the service and hospitality in tourism that human resources provide. Stable management of enterprises and proper evaluation and support for employees will increase the satisfaction and motivation of the tourism human resources working there, which in turn will increase the satisfaction of tourists.

Understanding and supporting tourism and tourism human resources among the local communities is also important to encourage women and youth to work in the tourism sector and sustain the tourism human resources in the Petra region.

Program 5: Services and Hospitality comprises 9 priority projects to achieve these key objectives.

Chapter I. INTRODUCTION

INTRODUCTION

1) Background

The Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan is blessed with unique historical, religious, natural and heritage sites such as Petra, Dead Sea, Wadi Rum, Roman sites and religious from the time of the Old Testament. Above all, Petra is the most famous UNESCO World Cultural Heritage Site registered in Jordan and is a unique example of an ancient civilization.

On the other hand, Jordan has faced the multiple exogenous shocks for over a decade including the Arab Spring, the rise of terrorism in the Middle East region, the Syrian crisis, COVID-19 pandemic, the Russia-Ukraine crisis and most recently the impacts of Gaza war.

Meanwhile, although the number of tourists peaked at 1.1 million in 2019 before the COVID-19 pandemic hit the tourism in the world and the PAP attracts tourists from all over the world, other attractions have not been sufficiently developed, and the benefits of tourism have not fully reached the local communities. In addition, Petra is confronted with challenges, such as the political situation in the Middle East region, increase of risk of natural disasters due to climate change and increase of risk of over-tourism due to a surge in the number of tourists.

2) Objective

Based on the above background, the Government of Jordan requested the Government of Japan to support the “Project for Formulating a Tourism Development Master Plan in the Petra Region”.

The objective of this Master Plan is to formulate a future development strategy for the development of the tourism sector in Petra to make Petra a sustainable and resilient tourist destination. In particular, in the tourism sector development, PPP is the key, including not only the public sector but also the private sector that actually engages in the tourism business.

Furthermore, in order to create a sustainable tourism destination, sustainability is required not only in the economic aspect, but also in the social and environmental aspects.

3) Target Area

This Master Plan is a tourism sector development master plan targeting for the six communities in the Petra region: Baidha, Umm Sayhoun, Wadi Musa, Taybeh, Rajif and Dlagha.

4) Target Year

The target year is set from 2023 to 2033. It is aligned with Jordan's Economic Modernization Vision, formulated by the Royal Hashemite Court of Jordan in January 2022.

This national vision sets out initiatives in the tourism sector, such as 1) Develop, manage and maintain touristic sites and facilities, 2) Develop tourism-related products of all kinds, 3) Launch the digital tourist initiative, 4) Update the sector's data to enable decision-making, 5) Continue tourism marketing, linking Jordan with a broader network of tourists, and developing the commercial identity, 6) Setting world-class standards and rules for the tourism sector, 7) Launch the "Secure, Safe and Clean Environment - Jordan Initiative", etc.

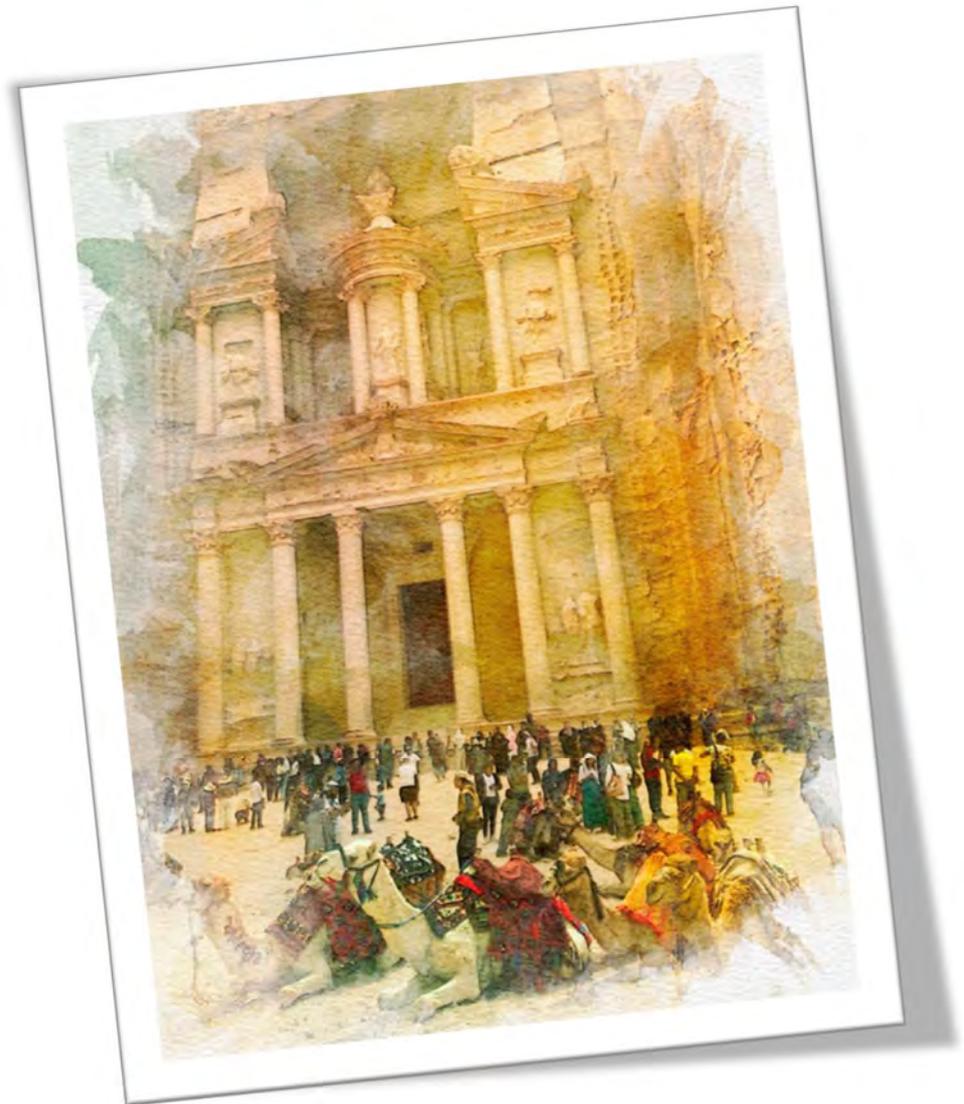

This Master Plan also targets tourism development that is consistent with the initiatives of this national vision.

5) Implementation Framework

According to the request from the Government of Jordan to the Government of Japan, this Master Plan is formulated as a technical cooperation project supported by Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA) under the framework of international cooperation between Jordan and Japan.

JICA is a Japanese governmental agency that supports development of developing countries around the world. This Master Plan is formulated in collaboration with PDTRA, the administrative body that manages the Petra region, as its counterpart.

The Project for Formulating a Tourism Development Master Plan in the Petra Region was implemented within the above framework from April 2021 to February 2025.

CURRENT STATUS OF PETRA

PETRA IN NUMBERS

1) Number of Visitors

Below is a graph illustrating the trend in visitor arrivals to Petra from 1984 to 2024. This data provides a comprehensive overview of how external factors including regional instability and the COVID-19 pandemic have influenced tourism trends over the years.

Unit: Thousand visitors

Source: PDTRA and Ministry of Tourism and Antiquities (MoTA) *The data in 2024 is until May.

Since Petra's registration as a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1985, the number of visitors has been on the rise. This recognition significantly boosted Petra's global profile, attracting more tourists each year and contributing to the steady growth in visitor numbers over the decades.

However, the Petra region has experienced significant fluctuations in tourist arrivals due to economic and political instability. These fluctuations highlight the vulnerability of the tourism sector to external factors, impacting on the overall trend despite the growing interest in Petra.

The COVID-19 pandemic had a severe impact on the tourism sector, causing a dramatic decline in visitor numbers. After reaching a new high in 2019, the number of visitors plummeted by 76% in 2020. This decline was a direct result of global travel restrictions and safety concerns.

Despite the severe impact of the pandemic, the number of visitors to Petra fully recovered and even surpassed pre-pandemic levels in 2023. This recovery reflects the resilience of the tourism sector and effective strategies to attract tourists back to Petra.

However, the growth in tourist numbers did not continue as expected in 2024. The ongoing Israel and Palestine conflict has affected the stability of the Middle East region, impacted travel plans and deterred potential visitors.

As of May 2024, around 247,000 visitors have visited Petra. This number reflects the ongoing challenges the tourism sector faces, indicating that while there has been a recovery, external factors continue to influence the growth trajectory.

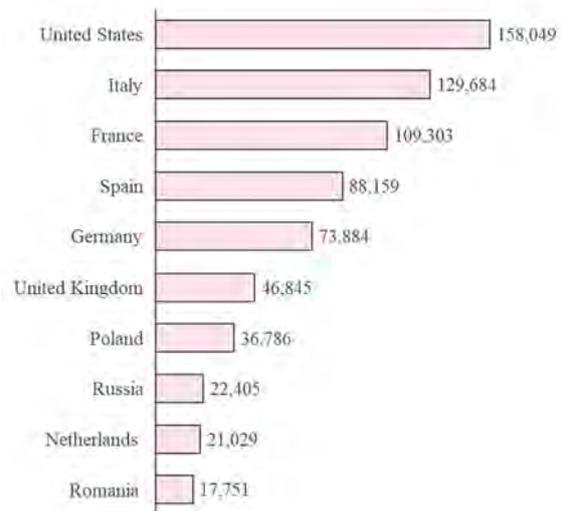

2) Source Market

The following graphs compare the top 10 source markets for Petra in 2019 and 2023. These visualizations reveal significant shifts in the demographics of international visitors over the four-year period, highlighting how global events, regional dynamics, and changing travel preferences have influenced tourism trends.

Unit: People
Source: MoTA

The graphs represent the top 10 source markets for Petra in 2019 and 2023, highlighting significant shifts in tourism patterns over these years. In 2019, the United States was the largest source market, followed by Germany, the United Kingdom, and Spain. Other key markets included France, Russia, Italy, China, Canada, and Poland, reflecting a diverse range of international visitors to Petra.

One of the most notable changes was the decline in visitors from China, reflecting a significant drop in travelers. This decline can be attributed to several factors including travel restrictions due to the COVID-19 pandemic, changes in Chinese travel policies, and a shift in travel preferences among Chinese tourists.

Conversely, Romania emerged as a new entrant in the top 10 source markets by 2023, likely due to the increased availability of Low-Cost Carrier (LCC) flights and targeted marketing efforts. Additionally, Poland showed a marked increase in its ranking, demonstrating a substantial rise in visitors, which can be attributed to enhanced travel connectivity and growing interest in cultural and historical tourism.

These changes underscore the dynamic nature of international tourism and how external factors, such as global events, regional economic conditions, and improved travel accessibility, can influence travel patterns. Understanding these shifts is crucial for developing effective marketing strategies to attract and cater to the evolving preferences of tourists from these key markets, ensuring sustained growth in Petra's tourism sector.

3) Number of Nights Spent

The graph below presents the average number of nights tourists in Petra from 2015 to 2022. This data was calculated by dividing the total number of nights in Petra by the number of overnight tourists, as collected from the Ministry of Tourism and Antiquities (MoTA) up until 2020. In 2022, the JICA Project Team conducted a baseline survey and found that the average number of nights in Petra was 1.89.

Unit: Night

Over the years from 2015 to 2020, the average length of stay in Petra showed a fluctuating trend. The number of nights stayed varied, reflecting changes in tourist behavior and external factors impacting travel. In 2022, the baseline survey conducted by the JICA Project Team indicated an increase in the average number of nights stayed in Petra, rising to 1.89 nights.

4) Average Per Night Spending by Nationality

Figure 6 shows the top 30 nationalities visiting Petra by their per-night spending, based on a baseline survey conducted between January and September 2022. While the average tourist spending in Petra, regardless of nationality, is 102 JOD per night, the graph specifically focuses on nationalities with more than 20 respondents to ensure accuracy and avoid outliers. The highest spenders are from non-European markets, with the United Arab Emirates, Australia, and China leading in terms of per-night expenditure.

In contrast, visitors from European markets, including Italy, Spain, and France, tend to have lower visible spending in Petra. This could be due to the prevalence of package tours, where expenses such as meals are often prepaid, reducing the amount spent directly at the destination.

5) Seasonality

Petra experiences notable seasonality in tourist arrivals, influenced by the region's climate. Foreign tourists typically peak in spring (March to May) and autumn (September to November), when temperatures are moderate, and the weather is pleasant for exploring Petra's archaeological sites. In contrast, summer (June to August) sees a sharp decline in tourist numbers due to the intense heat, which makes outdoor activities less enjoyable and sometimes challenging.

Unit: Thousand people

November has been a high season for tourism in Petra, with notable visitor numbers just before the COVID-19 pandemic in 2019. However, in 2023, despite overall tourist arrivals surpassing pre-COVID levels, November and December experienced significant downturns of 64% and 67% respectively compared to the 2019 levels, due to the eruption of a conflict between Israel and Palestine, demonstrating how regional conflicts can disrupt typical seasonality trends.

SWOT Analysis of the Petra region

Based on field observations, distribution of questionnaires to private sector stakeholders, and interviews with key individuals in the Petra region, the JICA project team identified the following major Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, and Threats for the Petra region as a whole.

Table 1: SWOT Analysis of the Petra Region

STRENGTHS	WEAKNESSES
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Presence of a World Heritage Site, which is also regarded as one of the Seven Wonders of the World. • Attractive unique tourism products • The presence of handicraft co-operatives and women's associations in the region creating unique craftwork and ceramics influenced by the Nabataean designs • It is endowed with abundant tangible and intangible heritages • A stunning semi-arid mountain scenery • People in Petra have a good sense of hospitality • People in Petra have a good sense of ownership to Petra Archeological Park • Most tourism service providers speak between good to an excellent level of English • Smooth road connections to international airports in Amman and Aqaba • Smooth road connections to other surrounding destinations 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Lack of diversified tourism products (excessive dependency on Petra Archeological Park and no attractive nightlife) • Tourists' average length of stay is very short • There is a lack of high-quality tourism services • Petra is being regarded as an extension destination of neighboring countries • There are very few locally created souvenirs, and most of them are imported • Shortage of tour guides who speak languages other than English • Persistent visitor annoyances and hassles inside the Petra Archeological Park caused by the informal service providers • Locals are overly reliant on the tourism business, with few alternatives of other sectors • The tourism benefits are not divided evenly across the six communities • Women's participation in the tourism sector is exceedingly low • Water shortage is a problem for hotels and local people in general • Weak public-private partnership • Lack of clear marketing & promotion strategy

Source: JICA Project Team, based on questionnaire survey, interviews, and field observations

According to the SWOT analysis, Petra's status as a UNESCO World Heritage Site and one of the Seven Wonders of the World has significantly enhanced its global image and reputation, setting it apart from other destinations in Jordan. Its strategic location further enables Petra to attract visitors from nearby renowned sites like Wadi Rum and Aqaba.

However, despite its rich tangible and intangible cultural heritage, Petra's limited variety of tourism products restricts its appeal to specific market segments such as families, luxury travelers, and special interest tourists.

Chapter III.
MASTER PLAN
STRUCTURE

MASTER PLAN STRUCTURE

1) Value Chain Approach

In development of the tourism sector, tourism resources such as local tangible and intangible heritage are developed as tourism products after excavation and research. Then, interpretation is added as a program that tourists can enjoy and experience the local cultures.

In this context, it is necessary to develop products and services with high added value, put them in the distribution and sales process, and deliver them to tourists. In addition, not only infrastructure such as roads, electricity, water and sewage, and telecommunication, but also institutional system in the public and private sectors such as human resources, businesses, academics and research institutes related to the tourism sector are required to be improved.

Based on this understanding, in this Master Plan, the concept of Value Chain, which is widely used today as a method for analyzing the competitiveness of companies, is applied to the tourism development.

Value Chain is defined as an organizational effort and network within a company to increase the competitiveness and efficiency by adding value through the process from the purchase of raw materials to the sale of products and services including after-sales services.

The following figure shows the five processes of the Value Chain related to tourism.

Source: JICA Project Team

The "Value Chain Approach" is defined as a series of support to increase the added value of the tourism sector in the region, strengthen the competitiveness of Petra tourism, and contribute to the economic development of the region by increasing tourism revenue through support for the organic functioning of the value chain, including developing tourism resources (= raw materials) as a tourist destination, creating products and services to tourists (= manufacturing), and offering products and services (= services).

In accordance with this approach, the Petra region is considered as single destination, and then the destination is regarded as a company that provides products and services to tourists under the cooperation of public and private stakeholders related to tourism.

● Destination Management (DM)

Destination Management aims to ensure the sustainability of tourism by providing the highest quality experience for visitors and managing the impacts of tourism on the local economy, society and environment.

Destination Management includes cross-cutting activities that cover all the processes necessary to maximize the value of a tourist destination.

According to the criteria provided by GSTC, sustainability of destination depends on 4 pillars: (A) Sustainable Management; (B) Socioeconomic Sustainability; (C) Cultural Sustainability; and (D) Environmental Sustainability.

● Research & Development (RD)

Research and Development is the first process in developing a tourist destination. The historical value and meaning of tourism resources such as archaeological sites and nature are defined through surveys and research, and they can only be recognized by tourists once they are developed as a tourist site or displayed in the museum.

Furthermore, an important role of Research and Development is to understand local economic activities, employment, tourist trends, etc., and to use this information in appropriate marketing and tourism destination management.

● Product Design (PD)

Product Design is the process to develop competitive products through evidence-based marketing based on the Research and Development described above.

Product Development is carried out by identifying the target through Research and Development, taking the four elements of marketing into consideration: (A) Product composition optimized for the target, (B) Setting the price, (C) Setting the sales place and channel, and (D) Promotion method.

Furthermore, from the point of view of sustainable development, it is necessary to design products that benefit both tourists and local people equally.

● Sales & Promotion (PD)

Sales and Promotion is closely related to Product Design and is the process of promoting tourist destinations and tourism products to tourists in more efficient manners based on Research and Development.

Digital Marketing technology is an indispensable tool for efficient and effective promotion, and by establishing an interactive relationship between destinations and tourists, it is possible to reflect tourists' demands in the Destination Management and Product Design.

● Service & Hospitality (SH)

Service and Hospitality is the last of the five processes in the tourism Value Chain. The quality of service and hospitality ultimately determines the impression and value of a destination for tourists.

Today, the service process in the Value Chain shall include not only services provided during the tourist's trip, but also after-sales services to follow up after the trip.

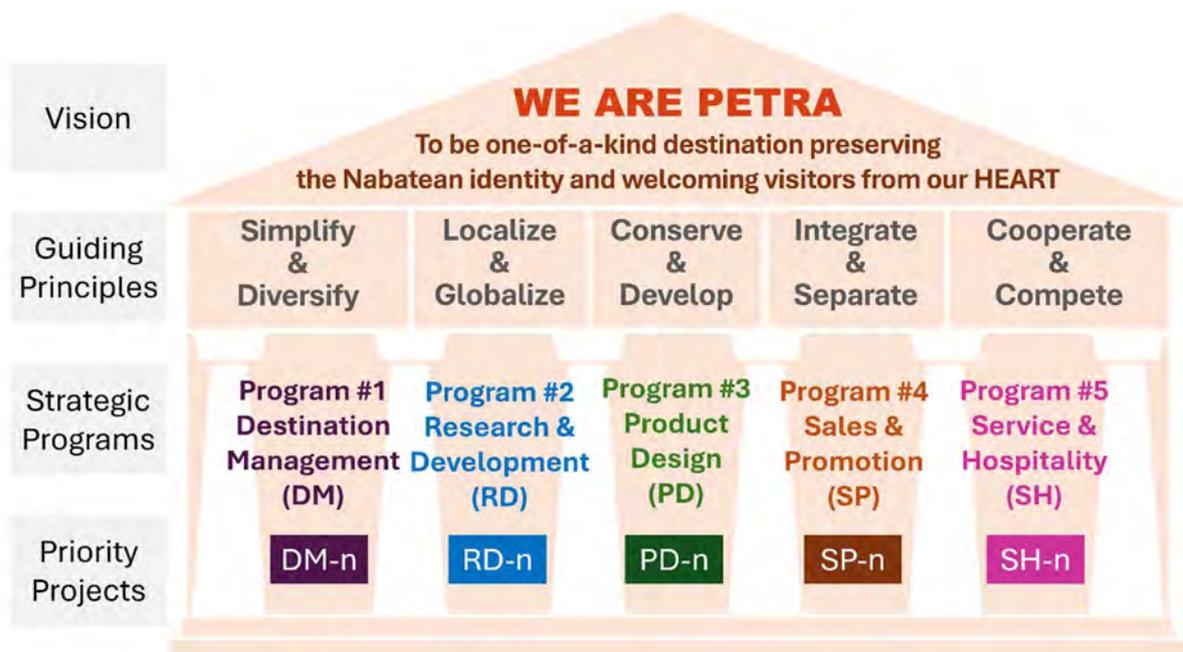

It is important to establish a cycle that improve the entire process of the Value Chain based on the lessons learned through after-sales services and to maximize the value of the tourist destination.

2) Master Plan Framework

This Master Plan has a three-layered structure: Vision, Guiding Principles, and Strategic Programs. It also sets KPIs to measure the overall impact of the Master Plan by 2033.

The Strategic Programs are formulated for each of the five processes of the Value Chain Approach proposed in this Master Plan.

The Strategic Program for each process consists of the key objectives, the Priority Projects that make up the program, and the action plans to implement each priority project.

Chapter IV.
VISION

1) Tourism in Petra Today

Petra is famous for its archaeological heritage with amazingly skillfully rock-cut red-rose-colored architectures since Nabatean era which has been inscribed in the list of the UNESCO World Cultural Heritage since 1985.

The Government of Jordan, represented by PDTRA, with the help of international organizations, has been working to address social, economic, and environmental challenges that the tourism in Petra is facing nowadays.

In line with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) targeted to be achieved by 2030, the current and future challenges in tourism in Petra is how to create a sustainable, inclusive, and resilient destination for the local people, businesses, and tourists.

2) Our Story of the Nabateans

More than 2,000 years ago, the Nabataean Kingdom was established by the Nabateans who amassed wealth through trade mainly between the Eastern and the Western civilization. Petra ("Raqmu" in Nabatean) was the capital city of the kingdom, and its impressive and innovative water management systems greatly contributed to making the region inhabitable, gathering people to the region, and evolving it to one of the most successful trading centers in ancient times. Caravan traders passed through the city to exchange goods (textiles, incense, spices, ivory, etc.), and civilizations from different countries met and generated continuing cultural interflow in Petra.

The ancient city of Petra, built by the Nabateans by skillfully carving out the Rocky Mountains of the highlands, is a unique artistic achievement, with magnificent architectures such as the Treasury (Al-Khazneh) and other rock-cut façade tombs, which were praised as a "rose red city" by a later poet.

3) Mind of As-Salam

The Nabataeans tolerantly adopted the different cultures of neighboring regions that they encountered through trade, such as Egypt and Greco-Roman, and created a unique culture that fused the civilizations of the Eastern and the Western civilization.

Even during a turbulent history surrounded by powerful hegemonies, the Nabataeans developed a spirit of peaceful coexistence with the different civilizations that they encountered through trade and a culture of hospitality for travelers. This spirit is well expressed in the greetings by the Nabataean language, "peace be upon you", which is inherited from a modern Arabic greeting as As-Salam.

4) Living in Harmony

The Nabateans lived in harmony with nature. The water management systems that they developed led to flood control and advancement of agriculture, and the Nabateans enjoyed urban life in Petra in a sustainable manner; a legacy that is inherited in the traditional technologies of locals living around Petra today.

The ancient traditional Nabatean wisdom in harmony with the ecosystem should be recognized as a key to solving the challenges we are facing, in terms of harmony with the environment and sustainability.

5) Our Identity

The key concept of our vision for developing tourism in Petra is to unite the people of Petra from the local communities that are eager to succeed in tourism regardless of their occupations and educational backgrounds as much as possible. We, the people of Petra, will keep exploring the uniqueness of our own culture from different aspects such as gastronomy, clothing, handicrafts, housewares, architectures, fauna, flora, and language etc. to act as the storytellers of Petra for the people visiting Petra. We also aim to expand the opportunities for the visitors to explore the tourism resources in the local communities.

6) To Strengthen Petra as A World-Class Destination

It is essential that we, the people of Petra, and the tourists, mutually understand each other's cultural context, aim to protect the natural and cultural heritage of the region, and comply with international development efforts (such as SDGs, that consider economic, social, and environmental aspects) to make PETRA a more sustainable and resilient tourist destination. It is also important that we offer the visitors an abundance of wow factors during their stay through dining experiences, hands-on experiences, shopping experiences, landscapes, and interaction with us.

7) To Pass on Our Heart

Our short-term goal is to raise awareness of the cultural heritage we have in Petra among ourselves, to develop and enhance the tourism resources in Petra with the unification and cooperation of people from our communities, and to improve the quality of tourism provided to the visitors in Petra through our constant effort. Yet our overall goal is for us to pass on our HEART, such as our cooperative mindset, our respect for our local heritage, and our passion for improvement to our next generations with the aspiration to present Petra as a place where both local people and visitors share the sense of harmony.

8) WE ARE PETRA

We understand that Petra, the rose-red city in the southern Jordan, was the Crossroad where the Caravans met, and people lived in harmony with the mind of hospitality, peace, and wisdom.

Therefore, we strive to strengthen our position as a world-class tourism destination that includes public, locals, businesses, and tourists by providing comfortable high-quality services, timeless experiences, preservation, eco-friendliness, and peacefulness which we desire to pass on.

Under these understanding, "WE ARE PETRA", is the slogan and visual icon that embodies our vision of this Master Plan.

With this slogan, the Master Plan aims for an inclusive approach, considering every facet of culture, nature, gender and generations, spanning from children to elders, as integral components of Petra's tourism development.

In embracing the six communities, "WE ARE PETRA" conveys a message that the Master Plan is committed to leaving no one behind.

The logo draws inspiration from the varied colors of sandstone shaping the distinctive landscape of the rose-red city of Petra, symbolizing inclusiveness, uniqueness, and diversity.

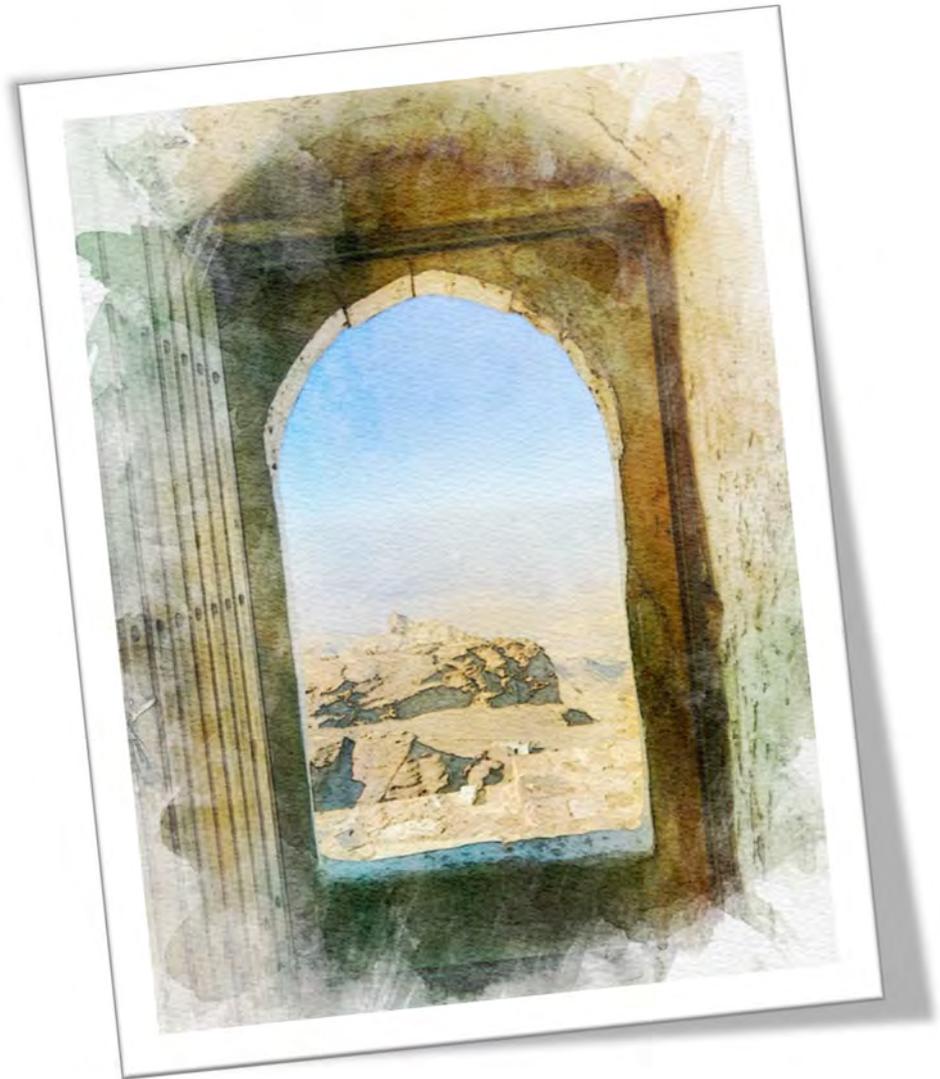

9) Our Vision

Under the above slogan, this Master Plan sets "To be one-of-a-kind destination preserving the Nabatean identity and welcoming visitors from our HEART" as its vision and aims to make Petra a unique tourist destination.

To be one-of-a-kind destination preserving the Nabatean identity and welcoming visitors from our HEART

PETRA, the rose-red city in the southern Jordan, was the capital of the Nabataean Kingdom and world trade center at that time where the Caravans met, and people lived in harmony with the mind of hospitality, peace, and wisdom.

Therefore, we strive to strengthen our position as a world-class tourism destination that includes public, locals, businesses, and tourists by providing comfortable high-quality services, timeless experiences, preservation, eco-friendliness, and peacefulness which we desire to pass on.

Chapter V.
GUIDING PRINCIPLES

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Guiding Principles is defined as cross-cutting approaches to be considered to realize the Vision and to formulate the Strategic Programs.

The following five guiding principles underpin the development of comprehensive and effective tourism development in the Petra region and the promotion of public-private partnership in the tourism sector for the destination management: (i) Simplify and Diversify; (ii) Localize and Globalize; (iii) Conserve and Develop; (iv) Integrate and Separate; and (v) Cooperate and Compete for formulating sustainable and resilient tourist destination.

The two verbs contained in each Guiding Principle are antonyms and seem to be contradictory concepts in general. However, when it comes to tourism development, the issue to be tackled is how to balance these two aspects.

Therefore, this Master Plan aims to achieve a comprehensive and inclusive approach by connecting these two opposing concepts with “AND” instead of “OR”, positioning them as synonyms, and thereby achieving a “Balance of Opposites”.

Chapter VI.
KEY PERFORMANCE
INDICATORS

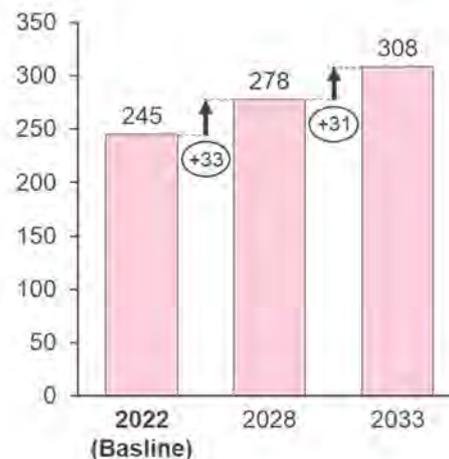

KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS

The KPIs for this Master Plan are the targets to be achieved by implementing the Master Plan by the year 2033. There are five KPIs, encompassing three economic targets, one socio-economic target, and one environmental target. The economic KPIs include increasing expenditure per tourist, the total number of tourists, and overall tourism receipts. The socio-economic KPI focuses on boosting employment in the tourism sector, with particular emphasis on increasing the number of women working in the industry. The environmental KPI tracks the progress of actions taken to enhance environmental sustainability within Petra. These KPIs are designed to ensure balanced growth, socio-economic benefits, and sustainable tourism practices, aligning Petra's development with broader economic, social and environmental goals.

1) Expenditure per Tourist Visiting the Petra Region

This KPI aims to measure and increase the average spending of tourists to enhance the economic benefits of tourism in Petra. According to the visitor survey conducted between April and June 2022, the baseline year amount was established at 245 JOD per stay. This survey revealed the average spending of tourists who stayed between 0-4 nights. When we look at the average spending per night, tourists who stayed between 1-4 nights in Petra spent around 102 JOD per night. This amount covers essential costs such as accommodation, souvenirs, food and beverages, and other consumable items.

To project the future expenditure per tourist, an average inflation rate of 2% was considered, along with a hypothesized increase in the number of nights stayed. The scenario assumes that by 2028, 10% of tourists who currently stay 1 night will extend their stay to 2 nights, and by 2033, 15% will stay 2 nights. Similarly, 5% of tourists who currently stay 2 nights are expected to stay 3 nights by 2028, with this percentage increasing to 10% by 2033.

Unit: Jordanian Dinar (JOD)

Based on these assumptions and the inflation rate, the targeted expenditure per tourist is projected to increase to 278 JOD by 2028 and further to 308 JOD by 2033, as shown in the graph above. This upward trend reflects the strategic goal of encouraging longer stays and higher spending per visit, contributing to the overall economic growth of the Petra region.

2) Number of Tourists

This is to track and increase the total number of visitors to Petra, which directly contributes to the economic vitality of the region. Historically, the number of visitors to Petra has grown at a CAGR of approximately 4%.

Unit: Thousand people

Assuming other factors remain constant, and if the number of tourist arrivals to Petra continues to grow at a CAGR of 4%, it is projected that the number of tourists will surpass 1.6 million by 2033. The assumption for this KPI calculation is that the number of tourists to Petra fully recovered to the 2019 levels in 2023, establishing this year as the baseline.

3) Tourism Receipt in Petra

The third KPI is tourism receipts, which represent the total income generated from tourists visiting Petra. Given the absence of specific data for Petra, the estimation of this KPI is based on the overall tourism receipts for Jordan. According to the Central Bank of Jordan, the total tourism receipts for the country were 5.816 billion USD in 2022.

To determine the portion of these receipts attributable to Petra, the percentage of tourists visiting Petra relative to the total number of visitors to Jordan is considered. In 2022, Petra received 905,000 tourists, which is 18% of Jordan's total 5.05 million visitors. By multiplying this 18% share by the total tourism receipts, the baseline amount of tourism receipts for Petra is calculated to be 0.93 billion USD for 2022.

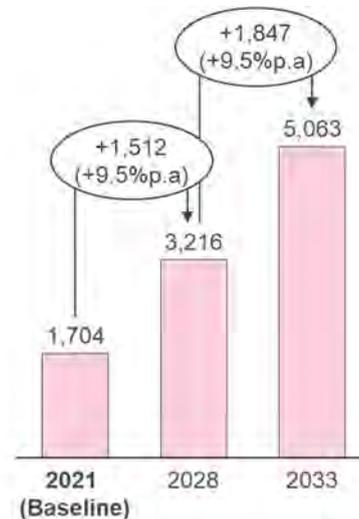

Unit: Billion USD

For future projections, Jordan's national Economic Modernization Vision, which anticipates a 10% CAGR in tourism's contribution to GDP, is applied. Assuming Petra's tourism receipt growth aligns with this national trend, the receipts are projected to increase significantly. By 2028, tourism receipts for Petra are expected to reach 1.65 billion USD, and by 2033, they are projected to rise to 2.65 billion USD, as shown in the graph above.

4) Number of Employments in the Tourism Sector in Petra, Especially the Number of Women

The KPI for the number of people employed in Petra's tourism sector, particularly focusing on women, is crucial for the region's socio-economic development. The baseline data for this KPI was adapted from PDTRA's Socio-Economic census conducted in 2021. This census revealed that approximately 21% (around 1,704 people) of the workforce in Petra is employed in the tourism sector, with women making up about 39% of this workforce.

Unit: People
Source: PDTRA's Socio-Economic census

In the target year of 2033, the number of people working in the tourism sector in Petra is projected to be around 5,000, assuming a growth rate consistent with Jordan's Economic Modernization Vision of 9.5%.

A significant objective within this target is to increase the proportion of women in the tourism workforce from a baseline of 39% in 2021 to 47% by 2028, and further to 54% by 2033, aligning with the global percentage identified by the WTTC.

5) Progress of the Action taken for the Environmental Consideration

This KPI aims to measure the implementation and effectiveness of various environmental initiatives to ensure sustainable tourism development in Petra. This KPI can be considered from three perspectives: destination management, waste management, and water management.

Starting in 2023, PDTRA conducted various environmental training programs such as 3R (Reduce, Reuse, Recycle) trainings through JICA's Pilot Project.

Significant milestones are planned for 2028 and beyond. By this year, Petra will see the operation of a new ticketing system to manage tourist numbers, the construction of solid waste treatment facilities, and the implementation of a second Wastewater Treatment Plant (WWTP) with the reuse of treated water for agriculture. By 2033, all physical signage within the PAP will be replaced with digital signage, and a separate collection and recycling system will be fully operational.

These actions highlight Petra's commitment to environmental sustainability, ensuring that tourism growth does not compromise the region's ecological and cultural integrity. The KPI serves as a benchmark to evaluate the success of these environmental initiatives, promoting continuous improvement and responsible tourism practices.

EX-POST EVALUATION INDICATORS

The ex-post evaluation indicators are essential for assessing the impacts of this Master Plan once its initiatives have been implemented. These indicators provide a framework for measuring the effectiveness of the Master Plan in achieving its objectives and ensuring sustainable tourism development in Petra. By evaluating these indicators, stakeholders can gain insights into the project's success and identify areas for future improvement.

1) Indicator to be used to measure the Impacts of the Project

Status of utilization of the Master Plan prepared by the project to implement tourism development policies and plans in Jordan. This includes assessing how effectively the tourism development policies and plans outlined in the Master Plan have been integrated into national and regional strategies. This encompasses the alignment of local initiatives with the broader goals of Jordan's tourism sector.

Furthermore, the evaluation of training and capacity-building programs conducted for local stakeholders, including tourism operators, community leaders, and government officials, will provide insights into the increased competency and preparedness of stakeholders in managing tourism effectively.

2) Indicator to be used to measure the Impacts after the Implementation of the Master Plan

To measure the impacts after the implementation of the Master Plan, various indicators will be utilized. One key indicator is the tourist expenditure per visit, which measures the average spending per tourist visiting Petra before and after the master plan's implementation. This indicator assesses the economic impact of tourism on the local economy, with an increase in expenditure per tourist indicating a higher value derived from each visitor, contributing to the region's economic sustainability.

Another critical indicator is the number of nights spent, tracking changes in the average number of nights tourists stay in Petra. Longer stays generally correlate with higher tourist expenditure and deeper engagement with local culture and attractions, reflecting the success of efforts to enhance the visitor experience and encourage extended stays.

The evaluation of employment and income in the tourism sector will be also crucial. This indicator will measure the increase in the number and income of local people engaged in the tourism sector, including new jobs created and income generated through tourism products developed and promoted after the Master Plan's implementation. This indicator provides insights into the socio-economic benefits of tourism development for the local community, showcasing the impact on livelihoods and economic opportunities.

Chapter VII.
PROGRAM #1
DESTINATION MANAGEMENT

DESTINATION MANAGEMENT (DM)

A Tourism destination is defined as a physical area with a geographical unity consists of some tourist sites. Petra is inscribed as a UNESCO World Cultural Heritage Site in 1985, and protected zones and buffer zone are determined around the archaeological park. However, the terms of destinations used in this Master Plan includes broader area than the zones designated by UNESCO.

This Master Plan defines Petra as a tourism destination, covering the six communities that make up the administrative district managed under PDTRA.

Destination Management aims to ensure the sustainability of tourism by providing the highest quality experience for visitors and managing the impacts of tourism on the local economy, society and environment. Destination Management includes cross-cutting activities that cover all the processes necessary to maximize the value of a tourist destination. Petra's current advantages/potentials and challenges are summarized in the table below.

1) Advantages/Potentials and Challenges

Table 2: Advantages/Potentials and Challenges on Destination Management (DM)

Advantages and Potentials	Challenges
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Petra has tourism, infrastructure and social development all managed by a single administrative agency, PDTRA, allowing for efficient destination management. • Petra has many attractions to attract tourists, with the PAP registered as a UNESCO World Heritage Site and the cultural space of Bedu registered as a UNESCO World ICH. • Many public and private sectors are actively investing in the tourism sector in Petra. • Tourist service facilities, hotels, restaurants, visitor centers, museums, etc. have been developed. • Petra has good access to the international airport in Aqaba. • Petra is classified as a special economic zone in Jordan and has special tax incentives for investors. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Need to identify clear vision and goals toward sustainable development in the tourism sector. • Need to establish PPP framework for tourism development. • Need to control the number of tourists to avoid overcrowding in the main route considering its carrying capacity. • Need to control informal businesses including child labor and animal abuse. • Need to provide business opportunities to locals. • Need to develop management skills of local people for tourism businesses. • Need to provide financial support to MSMEs in the tourism sector. • Need to optimize water and solid waste management.

Based on the advantages/potentials and challenges summarized above, the Strategic Program for the development of Destination Management in Petra is as follows.

2) Key Objectives

Establish sustainable destination management framework.

Maximizing the value of tourism in Petra, it will depend on partnership between the public and private sector. Destination Management calls for efforts of different stakeholders to collaborate towards a common goal to ensure the sustainability of the destination now, and for the future.

Therefore, "Establish sustainable destination management framework" is set as the Key Objective for the Strategic Program of Destination Management.

According to the criteria provided by GSTC, sustainability of destination depends on four pillars: (A) Sustainable Management; (B) Socioeconomic Sustainability; (C) Cultural Sustainability; and (D) Environmental Sustainability.

Chapter VIII.
PROGRAM #2
RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT (RD)

Tourism in the Petra Region relies on the local cultural and natural heritage. The archaeological site of Petra is registered as the UNESCO World Heritage and managed as PAP. The cultural space of the Bedu in Petra and Wadi Rum is also registered in UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage (ICH) list. Natural heritage in the Petra region is planned to be managed as Petra Nature Reserve and Petra Geopark Plan.

In order to develop tourism in the Petra region in a sustainable manner based on Outstanding Universal Value (OUV) of Petra as well as protection of cultural and natural heritage in the region, Research and Development of heritage is the essential process. The cultural, historical and ecological value of natural and cultural heritage is re-discovered and re-evaluated through research, then utilized for cultural/eco-tourism in the Petra region as tourism resources.

The Petra Museum plays an essential role for Research and Development as a hub of research, protection and interpretation of heritage, as well as education, local community awareness/participation and tourism.

Furthermore, an important role of research and development is to understand local economic activities, employment, tourist trends, etc., and to use the information in appropriate marketing and tourism destination management.

Petra's current advantages/potentials and challenges are summarized in the table below from the perspective of Research and Development, especially in the field of cultural/natural heritage and museum.

1) Advantages/Potentials and Challenges

Table 3: Advantages/Potentials and Challenges on Research and Development (RD)

Advantages and Potentials	Challenges
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The archaeological site of Petra is registered/protected as UNESCO World Heritage and operated as PAP by PDTRA. • ICH in the Petra region is registered in the UNESCO ICH list. • The Petra Museum introduces tangible and intangible heritage of the Petra region. • The Petra Museum can play a role as core for heritage protection, education and cultural tourism. • Plenty of research has been implemented on archeology and cultural heritage in the Petra region. • Research Center of PDTRA conducts studies related to heritage and tourism. • PDTRA conducted visitor surveys in order to better understand tourist behavior and also is placing a high value on socioeconomic-related research. • A new interpretation method using AR is under development in PAP and the Petra Museum. • Program for persons with disabilities is under developing by the Petra Museum in cooperation with local NGOs for special needs. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Need to balance the increasing number of visitors and the carrying capacity of PAP. • Need documentation and protection of cultural and natural heritage. • Need to enhance the usage of the Petra Museum as a core of tourism and local community activities. • Need to improve awareness of local communities, especially younger generation, toward local unique heritage. • Need to build the capacity of the Petra Museum. • Need to increase the resources of the tourists' dynamic data. • Need to measure the impact of tourism on the local communities. • Need to strengthen the information and guidance of PAP's hazardous areas and conservation for tourists.

Based on the advantages/potentials and challenges summarized above, the Strategic Program for the Research and Development in Petra is as follows.

2) Key Objectives

Strengthen capacity for Tourism research, Heritage management and Museum management.

Based on these key objectives, 12 priority projects shown below are planned as the Strategic Programs for Research and Development. Chapter IX.
PROGRAM #3
PRODUCT DESIGN

PRODUCT DESIGN (PD)

The Petra region is well known for its archaeological sites, represented by the Treasury and Monastery, and registered as a UNESCO World Heritage Site. However, through the baseline survey and inspections, it was revealed that although there are a lot of attractions in the region such as beautiful landscape, sunset view, local life that deeply reflects Bedouin cultures and warm hospitality, the majority of tourists visit only the main site and stay only for one night, which means that the benefit of tourism goes only to the specific community connecting to the main site. The variety of tours in Petra is limited and the number of evening programs is particularly small, which is another reason why tourists do not stay in Petra for more than two nights. It was also found that the number of women and youth working in the tourism sector is small due to the limited job opportunities.

Based on these circumstances, the main goal of Product Design is to "develop tourism products that contribute to the preservation of Petra's history and cultures, as well as to the participation of communities including women and youth in order to bring more tourism benefits to the whole region," which shall also contribute to increase of the amount of money spent by visitors during their stay.

These can be a precious tourism resource to attract tourists not only to the main site but also to the surrounding areas. Through the baseline survey, potentials and challenges of the Petra region from the point of Product Design PD were extracted as follows.

1) Advantages/Potentials and Challenges

Table 4: Advantages/Potentials and Challenges on Product Design (PD)

Advantages and Potentials	Challenges
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Petra is a UNESCO World Heritage Site. • The Petra region has a rich tangible and intangible cultural heritage. • In some communities of Petra region deep influence of Bedouin culture remains in their daily life. • There is beautiful landscape for trekking on side trails in Petra region. • There is potential to develop Community Based Tourism (CBT) products such as local culture experience. • The Petra Museum can be a center to attract visitors to Petra. • There are some unique local handicrafts that can be promoted as "Made in Petra" products. • There are some local Bedouin style food. • People in the Petra region have warm hospitality. • There is a website operated by PDTRA called "Visit Petra", which is a useful source for tourists to get local information. • Audio guide in PAP is a useful tool for tourists. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Need to establish more Public-private and Private-private partnership. • Need to increase the number of human resources who can be leaders of Product Design in the communities. • Need to provide training to reinforce the skills and knowledge on how to make products. • Need to establish promotion and distribution channels to sell the developed products. • There is a huge imbalance of benefits from tourism among six communities. • Need to have more chance to engage women and youth into tourism business. • Need to expand the opportunity of involving more people or associations in the community. • Need to increase the production of locally made products. • Need to improve the quality and design of local handicrafts. • Need to diversify the tourism products to cover the missing part e.g. evening programs, adventure tours or new trails to attract new market. • Need to utilize more intangible cultural heritage to make it as new CBT products. • Need to improve the accessible tourism in hardware and software. • Need to improve infrastructure in some community to organize a Community Based Tourism product. • The number of visitors is imbalanced by the season (seasonality issue).

Based on these potentials and challenges, the key objectives and strategic programs for Product Design shall be as follows.

2) Key Objectives

Develop tourism products which contribute to more benefits towards the region including the empowerment of women and the local communities while conserving Petra’s history, culture, nature and people’s daily life.

To make local tourism programs attractive, the concept of “Community-Based Tourism” is very important. It focuses on the involvement of the local community, providing necessary training to the local stakeholders so that they can utilize tourism resources in the region into tourism products. It also increases job opportunities for local people including women and youth.

However, recently over-tourism is becoming a big issue in many tourist destinations around the world. It affects badly not only people’s lives but also nature and cultures. Petra has already accepted more than 2 million tourists in a year, and it causes over-tourism issues in the main site. When considering products in the surrounding communities, it is necessary to avoid this problem happening in the community. In this sense, not only the benefit from tourism but also conservation of cultures, history and lives of local people of the region, the key concept of “Eco Tourism”, needs to be considered.

In addition, consideration of the financial vulnerability and weak infrastructure in the communities supported by the public sector is essential, but it must aim that the community can run the tourism businesses independently in the future, which means they do not rely too much on the financial support from the government. Based on this, Product Design Strategic Programs are proposed as follows.

3) Priority Projects

Chapter XI.
PROGRAM #5
SERVICE & HOSPITALITY

SERVICE AND HOSPITALITY (SH)

Service and Hospitality is essential elements for improving customer satisfaction.

Service and Hospitality often need clarification but have different definitions.

Hospitality addresses the emotional and psychological aspects of the customer and does not create a master-servant relationship. On the other hand, the service addresses the customer's requirements. The customer has the right to receive services commensurate with the amount paid, and the service provider must provide services commensurate with the amount received. In tourism, various service providers (defined as 'tourism human resources') interact with tourists and provide the required services.

Tourism human resources working in Petra are hospitable and friendly. However, many people confuse hospitality with service, which sometimes results in inadequate services and too much friendliness, which can mislead tourists.

Tourists' impressions and evaluations of Petra are greatly influenced by the quality of the services and hospitality provided by tourism human resources and their language, behavior, and demeanor. Therefore, human resources are important in increasing tourists' satisfaction with Petra.

Service and Hospitality aims to increase tourist satisfaction by ensuring that human resources in the Petra tourism sector understand what service is and provide services that meet tourist requirements and are worth the money tourists pay. It also aims to increase tourist comfort levels by understanding the personal distance physically and psychologically and by communicating with tourists to feel comfortable while maintaining a rich spirit of hospitality.

Petra's current advantages/potentials and challenges in Service and Hospitality are summarized in the table below.

1) Advantages/Potentials and Challenges

Table 6: Advantages/Potentials and Challenges on Service and Hospitality (SH)

Advantages and Potentials	Challenges
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There are many vibrant MSMEs in the tourism sector and they are highly motivated. • The private sector is raising awareness of the importance of hospitality and service quality. • Many people working in the tourism sector are highly motivated to acquire new knowledge and technical skills. • Young people and women are a great asset to tourism's human resources. • People in Petra are hospitable, helpful and friendly. • Petra has a college and a vocational school, where many young people study tourism. • Many women in the local community desire to work in the tourism sector. • Local communities are increasingly keen to create tourism products that benefit residents. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Need to increase knowledge and skills in Services and Hospitality. • Need to understand comfortable personal distance. • Need to increase management-level understanding of crisis management and service management. • Need to have trainers in the Petra region who can conduct trainings on Service and Hospitality. • Need to understand and be able to deal with tourists with special needs. • Need to improve communication and English language skills. • Need to promote understanding and increasing of women working in the tourism sector. • Need to ensure a sustainable tourism development and tourism workforce in the communities.

Based on the advantages/potentials and challenges summarized above, the Strategic Program for Service and hospitality is as follows.

2) Key Objectives

Improve service quality to increase tourist satisfaction and develop human resources to ensure stable provision of tourism services.

To increase tourists' satisfaction with Petra, it is important to provide services that meet the demands of diverse tourists and appropriate hospitality to tourists.

To improve Petra's Services and Hospitality, tourism sector human resources need to acquire multifaceted knowledge and skills, such as developing expertise in their respective fields, responding to tourists' diverse needs, and communicating appropriately with tourists.

In addition, one factor for improving Service and Hospitality is that tourism human resources should be highly motivated and proud of their work. For this purpose, local communities must develop understanding of tourism and motivate tourism human resources. In the case of enterprises, the owners and upper management must know about service management such as supporting and appropriately evaluating employees, to increase employee satisfaction. This is because increasing employee satisfaction will increase the motivation of the tourism human resources working there, which will increase tourists' satisfaction.

The vigorous work of current human resources will stimulate young people to become future human resources in the Petra tourism sector and promote women's employment in the tourism industry.

Therefore, as a Strategic Program for Service and Hospitality, the following projects are proposed to achieve the key objective of "Improve service quality to increase tourist satisfaction and develop human resources to ensure stable provision of tourism services."
